

WHOLA III

With just the slightest modifications, this is the outline for WHOLA III I created in January of 2005. As of this writing, there are no plans to produce this event. I know that it will take place at some point; it's just a matter of the planets aligning in the correct formation, and someone writing a check for about $5000.00 dollars to sponsor it.

Whola III is set in my mind, and for better or worse, will be very much "the world according to ozzie." That's not to say I will not be considering all input, as well as needing help, but I have a final product in mind and that is what I hope to produce. I believe there are many individuals in our Whola community that could come up with a vision and bring it forward to creation, and there will be plenty of room, and time for those people to step up and run with their visions in the future. After Whola III, I will be handing the Whola reins to someone seriously insane enough to take them. The group efforts that produced Whola I and II were truly an amazing experience, if not a bit frantic. The output of generosity in spirit, time and money was mind blowing. Wholas 2.5 and 2.75 were equally wonderful, shorter, and much less frantic. I hope to combine the positive aspects of all the previous Wholas to produce a spectacular Whola Community event.

So with that said, let me lay out a very abstruse outline to this vision:

Date: Open

Location: Open (Most likely NY or LA)

Length: Friday, Saturday and Sunday. (I've dropped my idea for the Memorial Day weekend, but I would like to start With a Friday morning Who breakfast for the people arriving to help setup, and then officially, Friday Late afternoon with the opening event, and finishing with a Sunday Brunch. If we have enough people taking off Monday and making it their travel day, I'd love to schedule some type of event on Sunday night.)

Happenings:

Memorabilia display, socializing, and Guest speakers. God, gods, spirits and the Universe willing, Irish Jack and his embodiment of Who fandom, will return to head the list. All others will be icing on the cake. (And there will be others!) The all important WHO Toy Table giveaway will find its place.

A Theatre get-together for in-depth film and boot presentation. If I could wave a wand this would include participation from our brothers

Marc, Mike, and Terry, and sister Trish doing her Video Interruptus, as well as Jeff Stein doing a segment on the "Special Additions" in TKAA.

A Mod fashion show led by "Daddy Mod Max" with The Kidderminster Menagerie providing a 60s "British Invasion" live musical accompaniment.

Live Performances by our family of Who Tribs! (You all know the bands I expect to be there.)

So there you have it! WHOLA III as it resides in my mind.

Love,
ozzie
